Product Description

In traditional culture, accessories are not just decorations, they often contain profound cultural significance and auspicious meanings. Among them, the bracelet with 108 beads is particularly special. It not only represents the 108 afflictions in Buddhism, but also symbolizes the purification and sublimation of the spirit through practice. When agarwood and jade, two precious materials, are combined together, a bracelet with profound cultural heritage and mysterious charm is formed - a bracelet made of 108 agarwood round beads paired with jade.

Agarwood has been regarded as a precious spice and medicinal herb since ancient times. Its unique aroma can calm the mind and purify the soul. In Buddhist culture, agarwood is believed to have the ability to ward off evil and increase positive energy. Jade, as the king of jade, not only has a warm color and tough texture, but is also endowed with the beautiful meaning of good luck, health, and longevity. Combining these two elements to create 108 agarwood round beads paired with a jade bracelet is undoubtedly a masterpiece that combines beauty and blessings.

The design inspiration of this bracelet comes from the "prayer beads" in Buddhist culture. Each agarwood bead is carefully polished to present a natural and smooth surface, with a delicate touch and a faint agarwood fragrance. And jade is cleverly embedded between every 27 agarwood beads, like a star embellishing the night sky, which not only increases the ornamental value of the bracelet, but also enhances its overall value.

In terms of production technology, this bracelet also reflects the exquisite craftsmanship of the craftsman. The selection of agarwood is very particular, requiring the use of high-density and oily aged agarwood to ensure the durability of the bracelet and the long-lasting fragrance. The selection of jade, on the other hand, pays more attention to color and water content. High quality jade not only has bright colors, but also high transparency and good luster, which can well reflect the noble temperament of the bracelet.

Wearing this 108 agarwood round beads paired with a jade bracelet, not only can you feel the tranquility and peace brought by agarwood, but you can also experience the auspiciousness and beauty bestowed by jade. In daily life, whether paired with casual wear or formal attire, this bracelet can become the finishing touch, showcasing the wearer's unique taste and elegant temperament.

This bracelet also has high collectible value. As time goes by, the color of agarwood will gradually darken and the aroma will become more mellow; Jadeite, on the other hand, becomes more warm and shiny due to the oil in the human body. Therefore, this bracelet is not only a beautiful accessory, but also a valuable asset that can be passed down.

The 108 agarwood round beads paired with jade bracelet is an exquisite accessory that combines Buddhist culture, traditional craftsmanship, and modern aesthetics. It not only brings good wishes to the wearer, but also serves as a cultural heritage and continuation, allowing more people to understand and love the charm of traditional Chinese culture.
